

Department of English,
Cotton University

अप्रमत्तेन वेदव्यम्

Invites you to the
Monthly Online Lecture Series

For a talk on

"Northeast Indian or Assamese:
Beyond the Confines of the Indian English
Literary Conventions "

By ARUNI KASHYAP

Assistant Professor, Department of English
University of Georgia

On Saturday, 20 November, 2021,
6.30 PM IST

Zoom Link:

<https://us06web.zoom.us/j/82062393804pwd=SWIUdm02UWkyeGZYV1ZtODUySWRaQT09>

Aruni Kashyap is an author and translator who teaches Creative Writing at the University of Georgia. He made his debut with The House With a Thousand Stories in 2013. His Father's Disease (2019) is his other novel and There is No Good Time For Bad News (2021) is his latest collection of poetry. He has also translated Indira Goswami's 2009 fiction Thengphakhri Tehsildaror Tamor Taruwal into English as The Bronze Sword of Thengphakhri Tehsildar (2013). His short stories, poems, and essays have appeared in Catapult, Bitch Media, The Boston Review, Electric Literature, The Oxford Anthology of Writings from Northeast, The Kenyon Review, The New York Times, The Guardian UK, and others.